Findings

Our predictions \neq the young's replies

Everybody has a mobile phone!

Unemployment of the young is a big problem!

They don't know the apps well and they don't use them.

Getting an apartment is very hard for the young!

Politics want an interlocutor, national or local!

There are possibilities for social participation – they don't know them well, so they don't use them!

They need additional knowledge and competences for employment!
