Findings and recommendations

- Continuing programmes to encourage and develop core competencies in adults;
- focusing the programmes on core competencies to help adults engage in an active social life;
- including local/regional and functional content so as to provide additional motivation for people with a low level of education to enrol in such programmes;
- motivating local communities to ensure material support for the programmes and contribute to better social integration;
- maintaining and enhancing cooperation in existing networks that develop core competencies (partnership at the Zasavje Guidance Centre, planned committees for human resource development as part of municipal and regional councils, a regional programme for improving social integration, etc.);
- systematisation of the co-financing of adult education programmes, a public service for adult education.
